About the College
Offering more than 100 degree and certificate programs, St. Louis Community College is the largest higher education institution in the region and the second largest in Missouri. In addition to our traditional academic curriculum, we continue to expand our programs for today's knowledge- and technology-based economy. We offer nursing and allied health disciplines in addition to science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM). This includes programs in health information technology, biotechnology, cybersecurity, aerospace and advanced manufacturing.

STLCC annually serves more than 80,000 students through credit, continuing education and workforce training programs. The college's service area spans 718 square miles with four campuses, two satellite locations and two centers focused on workforce needs – the Center for Workforce Innovation and the Corporate College. Each location has many unique features that enable us to meet the diverse needs of the community.

Annual Economic Impact:
• In the St. Louis area is $2.5 billion.
• The college contributes $158 million in taxable income to the Missouri economy each year.
• A return on investment - A two-year scholarship of $6,000 has the resulting lifetime return of $30,000.

Foundation Mission
The St. Louis Community College Foundation solicits private financial support to further the mission of St. Louis Community College.

Proceeds from this event will provide scholarships for students at St. Louis Community College.
